REACH Regulation (EG) No. 1907 / 2006

Dear Clients,

Regarding the European Directive EC1907/2006 (REACH) we have closely checked the legal situation, made use of the Onlinedesk and the support of a safety engineer. Thereby we have obtained information as follows:

The duty of registration is only for products which release prohibited substances during their lifetime and exceed given quantities (disposal not included) at a proper use.

At the moment we assume that we are not subject to the duty of registration.

However, there is a duty to inform regarding a legally defined list of substances. The proposal of this list shall be available in December 2008. The duty of information is going to be established in 2011.

As being a lighting manufacturer we purchase all parts of our products from our sub-suppliers. Therefore, we depend on their declarations. Should there be any relevant data available we will immediately inform our clients.

Because of the comprehensive topic we cannot provide detailed confirmations at this stage. We ask for your understanding.

We will do our best to implement the legal directive and provide our clients with the best possible support.

In case of further question, feel free to contact us at any time.

Best regards,

Thomas Heeren
